

THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN
Regents Communication

ACTION REQUEST

Subject: Report of Faculty Retirement

Action Requested: Adoption of Retirement Memoir

Elisabeth Quint, M.D., clinical professor of obstetrics and gynecology in the Medical School, retired from the University of Michigan on June 30, 2023.

Dr. Quint received her medical degree in 1985 from the University of Leiden Medical School in The Netherlands. She completed an obstetrics and gynecology residency at the University of Michigan Hospitals and joined the faculty in 1991 as a clinical lecturer. She was promoted to clinical assistant professor in 1993, clinical associate professor in 1999, and clinical professor in 2005.

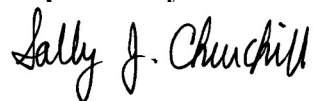

Dr. Quint is board-certified in obstetrics and gynecology and received a focused practice designation in Pediatric and Adolescent Gynecology (PAG) from the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology. Dr. Quint is a true advocate for her patients caring for them with compassion, dedication, and the absolute highest quality of care.

Dr. Quint is a nationally recognized expert on the gynecological health of girls and adolescents with physical and developmental disabilities and has been committed to improving not only the clinical care they receive, but also evidence-based medicine to guide care. Dr. Quint has served as clinic director for PAG since 1991. Since 2012, Dr. Quint has organized the annual Mayer-Rokitansky-Küster-Hauser (MRKH) Adolescent Women and Families Day at the University of Michigan. In addition, Dr. Quint has been the director of the PAG Fellowship Program since 2011 and served as assistant dean for clinical faculty for the Medical School from 2004 until January 2023.

Dr. Quint has 113 peer-reviewed publications, 20 book chapters, and numerous invited lectures on contraception in medically complex patients, gynecologic care for youth with special needs, and menstrual management for adolescents with disabilities. Dr. Quint served as the president of the North American Society for Pediatric and Adolescent Gynecology from 2011-2012. In each role Dr. Quint has served in, she has done so with great success and made major contributions to the care of girls and adolescents with disabilities across the world.

The Regents now salute this distinguished scholar and surgeon by naming Elisabeth Quint, clinical professor emerita of obstetrics and gynecology.

Requested by:

Sally J. Churchill, J.D.
Vice President and Secretary of the University

June 2023